Subject: Please do not ignore or laugh at this letter!

Dear President Vladimir Vladimirovic Putin.

Objectively speaking, you are one of the most intelligent politicians in the world, we should agree on that! A few years ago, a person working in the German legal system was convinced that you would prevent a possible nuclear war. We say, "The clever one gives in", show this world who really is "The clever one". You are absolutely right, your opponents are very narcissistic, inherited over many generations. Consider narcissists as extremely self-absorbed, spoiled only children. Their thoughts and actions cannot be taken seriously. Whoever presses the legendary "red button" first is written in the stars. But in the end there are certainly "only losers".

I therefore politely request you, together with all your allies, to immediately consider an appropriate solution to this major problem!
